Lorenzo Ravagli

Autumn has long belonged to the archangel Michael. Just as in summertime the serious gaze of Uriel looks down upon us, in springtime the healing powers of Raphael flow through us, and in winter Gabriel calls us to internalization, to the birth of the higher self.

We know Michael as the dragon conqueror, who conquers the powers of darkness, which prepare to take possession of the earth in autumn. He thus stands as a counterforce against that which takes over in the outer nature. The angel-logical consequence of Michael's work in autumn is the rebirth of the sun, the resurrection of the heavenly body which on its night barque has dived into the midnight sphere, the heavenly body to which everything on earth owes its life, both the physical and the spiritual. Raphael reinforces this ascension of life in the spring, when the buds swell, the
